

arona suggests

Where we can, we like to do our bit for charity and this month we've be participating in some fundraising and frolics in aid of prostate cancer. Where we can, we like to do our bit for charity and this month we've be participating in some fundraising and frolics in aid of prostate cancer.

Our hair bear bunch of boys in the Winebox warehouse have completed their annual attempt at growing the ultimate moustache. Not to be sniffed at they're already working hard, packing and distributing your supplies with expert precision and we think the extra exertion spent cultivating the grandest mo they could muster, deserves some plaudits.

We're appealing to all of our wonderful Winebox customers to get involved and give a contribution to this worthy cause. Simply add a donation to your web-order or over the telephone by quoting reference MOVEM and give yourself a little pat on the back for fighting the cause.

Here are the rules:

Boys had to be clean-shaven at the start of November and for the entire month each Mo must grow and groom a moustache.

No beards or goatees were permitted although a small complimentary growth under the bottom lip was allowed (aka a tickler).

Visit www.prostate-cancer.org.uk/help/community/movember.asp to see where your donations are going and find out exactly why we're in such a facial fuzz frenzy at wikipedia.org/wiki/Movember

Here come the girls...

In true fighting form and not be outdone, the proud women of Winebox have agreed to take part in the 2009 Playtex Moonwalk, in aid of breast cancer.

Taking place in London on 16th May next year, our lovely ladies will join forces with hundreds of women to stomp across the capital, raising money for the cause.

We'll be posting further details in the month's leading up to the Moonwalk and searching for your support so watch this space and in the meantime check out the charity's homepage at:

www.walkthewalk.org/Challenges/ThePlaytexMoonWalk

We're off to polish our halos and mos...

For more details visit www.winebox.co.uk